Lending A Hand. Jermaine Johnson, Georgia Stewart, Dr. Rueben Rivers and Tawana Davis volunteered at the Umoja Festival. The festival included exhibits and health care screenings and was held at Smith Recreation Center at Seabrook Park on Aug. 23rd. Thank you for lending a hand.

State Legislators are interested in your feedback

Medicaid Reform

Medicaid reform is an important discussion in the General Assembly right now. During the last legislative session, Medicaid was a key topic because it represents a significant portion of the state budget. This discussion plays a crucial part in all of our lives.

In the upcoming months, our elected officials will be working diligently to make vital decisions on how North Carolina will move forward with Medicaid. These representatives are interested in your feedback and specifically, how these decisions affect not only practices, but the patients receiving the best quality care.

Should you have any questions about Medicaid reform, how to reach your local Senator/Representative, or would like more information on the topic, please feel free to contact me at (910) 483-6869.
